CONCEPT OF OPERATIONAL POSTURES

1. It is envisioned that there are five phases of operational readiness. The following listed postures are to be used as a basis for personnel requirement decision making:

25X1

a. Case I - Training and housekeeping at [ ] continued aircraft test program, SKYLARK overflight capability and housekeeping unit at Kadena.

b. Case II - All of above plus TDY unit at Kadena with three A-12s.

c. Case III - Same as Case I but with overflight capability [ ]

25X

d. Case IV - Same as Case I but with both overflight capability [ ] and TDY unit at Kadena.

25X

e. Case V - Same as Case IV but with additional capability for TDY with three aircraft at another overseas base.

2. The following assumptions are to be used as basic planning factors:

a. All deployments will be on a TDY basis.

b. If TDY is extended, military and staff personnel will be rotated.

c. F-101s will be deployed.

d. MATS airlift will be available for logistics support.

e. C-130s will be available from CINCPAC.

f. KC-135 refueling support will be available.

25X1

g. Overseas units will be under direct command [ ]

h. Operational control will remain in project Headquarters.

i. Test program will be limited to one aircraft.

j. Training program will consist of normal currency and proficiency flying only.

3. A tentative approval has been received in Headquarters to expend funds for manning of units to meet the five above listed cases. Determination must now be made as to required time phasing of personnel to meet operational commitments. Determination must also be made as to those persons having a dual role  i.e., training or housekeeping duties plus TDY duties during deployment, etc.
